

Boschendal Mountain Bike Trail

Starting Point
Franschoek
Western Cape Province
South Africa

Last Review: Thursday, 14th March 2019

There are 5 marked routes: 9km Green and 11km Blue routes for easy to moderate riding. The 15km Red route for stronger riders. The 23km Black route for more advanced riders. The variable Black XL route adds 3-4 sections onto Black route to add between 7 to 10km's of additional riding. The 4km Yellow route is a skills track with options for both beginner and advanced riders.

Highlights include the 3.7km Inferno downhill single track through the forested slopes of the Simonsberg, the sweet Sugar Bowl with its fast technical sections and the pure-fun Porcupine singletrack corkscrewing through a forested section.

The marked trails consist of a large percentage of well-maintained single track, mountainside jeep track and some farm road.

Riders are welcome to make use of the 30 to 40 km's of unmarked tracks and farm road to create their own circuits and longer rides.
